The Sacramento County Fair Garden In A Wheelbarrow Kids Program!

"If our children don't understand where our food comes from, where will our food come from in the future?"

The Sacramento County Fair is offering free educational material for use in your classroom to educate your students on the source of food and fiber. This great program helps educate Kindergarten- 6th graders on the importance of agriculture in our society and they have the opportunity to showcase the results of their education at the 2012 Sacramento County Fair and receive awards for all their hard work! It's fun, creative and extremely educational. The Sacramento County Fair will provide a free wheelbarrow, seeds, soil and teaching materials to plant a salad garden. Attend a brief workshop to receive these materials and learn more about our great program.

Wheelbarrows are going fast so be sure to register online at www.sacfair.com and get your wheelbarrow reserved. Registration forms are due by Friday, January 27, 2012.

There are two workshop dates: Tuesday, February 21 or Wednesday, February 22, 2012. The workshop will be held at Cal Expo. Please indicate the date you prefer to attend on your registration form and fax or mail the registration form to:
